

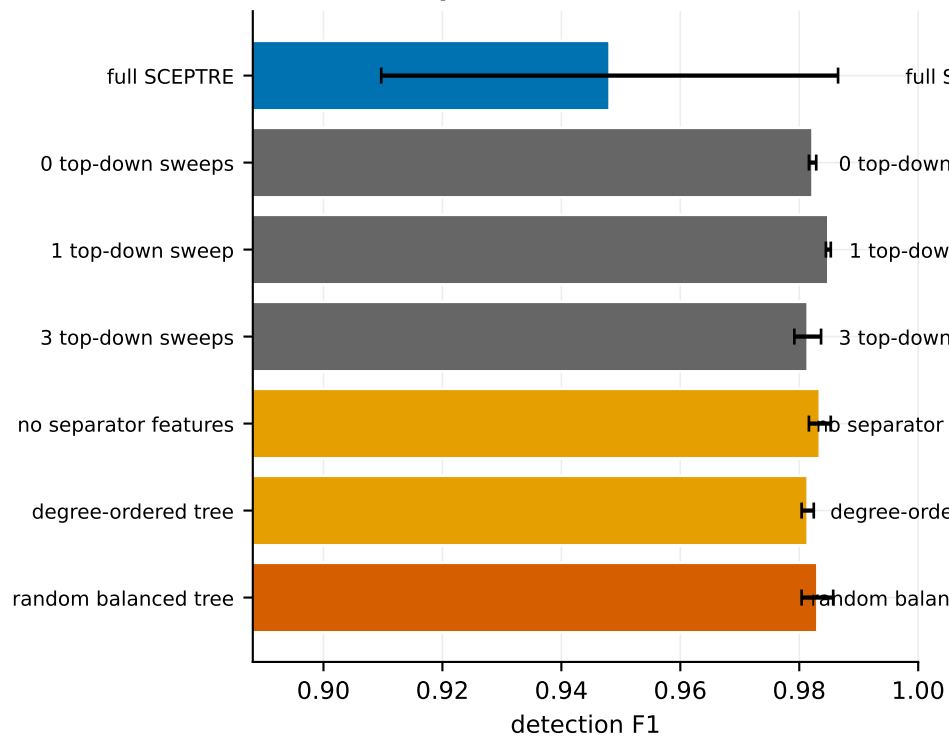

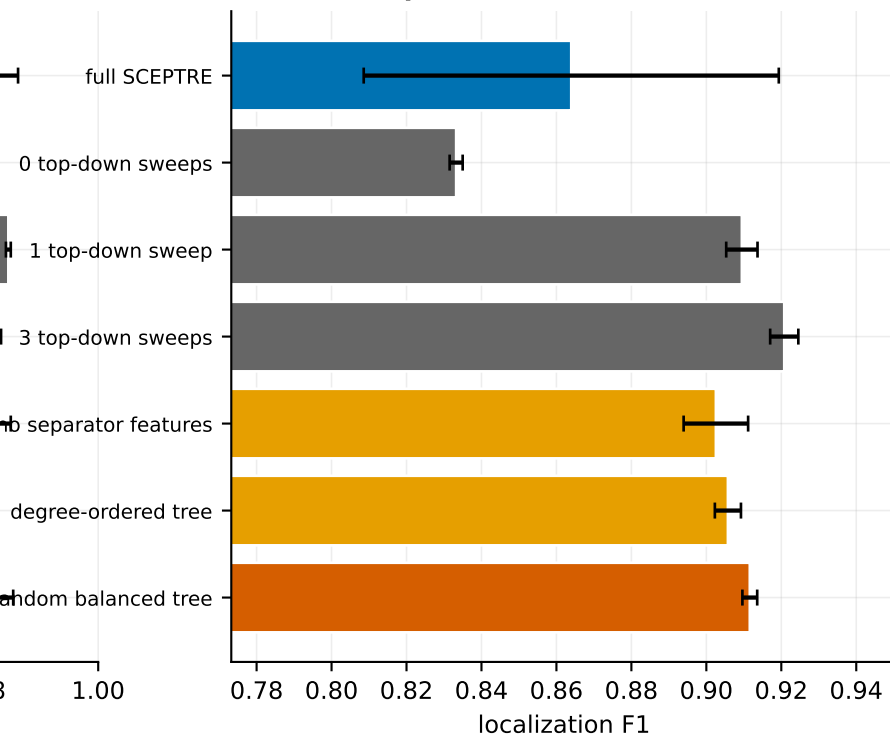

Figure 15 -- Ablations and measured complexity.

The red bar is the decisive control: a random balanced tree of the same depth and parameter count, differing ONLY in whether the partition respects the electrical structure.

(a) component ablation -- detection

(b) component ablation -- localization

(c) measured cost scaling on RTX 5060

